CHAUTAUQUA

Quite frequently during the past three or four years, when the town has faced serious problems in keeping with world-wide conditions, we have been advised that the only way to pull through our difficulties was by practicing the spirit of co-operation and all working harmoniously together.

During the past few weeks we have had opportunities of proving what great success can be accomplished by co-operation and we have also seen what an up-hill fight it is for those who undertake any venture which they think is in the interests of the town, to make it go when they have not that co-operation, but rather have opposing elements to contend with.

Speaking of the successes from co-operation we might again refer to the peace celebration. In this case the council and the G. W. V. A. met and appointed tentative officers, and outlined a plan for the celebration. At a subsequent meeting the citizens met and endorsed the actions of the first meeting. All got behind the movement and the result is well known. It was not the officers or committee that made the day a success. It was the people generally who responded to every call made upon them and jumped into the harness and did their bit.

How different it was with the Chautauqua and the effort made to have this line of amusement appear in our town again next year. We believe that fully ninety per cent of those who attended the Chautauqua this year are convinced that it is a good thing and are anxious to have it an annual affair in our town, but evidently too many of them were not willing to assume their share of the responsibility to make this possible. True there are some things in the contract which we do not like but we have not the slightest doubt that if all concerned had gone after the thing in a whole-hearted way, all these objections could have been overcome.

As we said in these columns on previous occasions one of the greatest needs in this town is entertainment and amusement in order to get the people from the surrounding district coming here and in order to hold the people living in town. The Chautauqua is one means of supplying this need and yet there are those who should benefit most by making Redcliff the centre of attraction for this district, who are either lake-warm towards or opposed to having Chautauqua an annual event.

This year the farmers of the district who could, attended these entertainments, and were among its most enthusiastic supporters. They were in town every day and evening for the week. Our own townspeople were holidaying at home for the week. They have all had Chautauqua enough for this year so that when similar entertainments are held in adjoining centres they will not have the same attraction. Will we be able to say the same another year when Redcliff has no Chautauqua? We fear not.

On the contrary when we see farmers driving through to some other town to get their entertainment and entertainment, and when we see our own townspeople flocking to the nearest Chautauqua centre, we will likely hear something about the large amount which which should be spent here in Redcliff, going out to other places by the amusement route.

Apart from its educational value, and since Chautauqua are being held in all other centres around Redcliff, it looks to us like a business proposition in which all business men should be interested.

BAD OUTLOOK

Judging from a resolution passed at the U. F. A. convention held in Calgary last week when it was decided to form a farmers' political party, the Alberta farmers are going to take matters into their own hands in an endeavor to force the Dominion government and Canadian manufacturers to take some action to remedy the present, very unsatisfactory conditions of the tariff situation. According to this resolution the farmers assembled at this convention pledged themselves to buy imported machinery and other goods to the limit, taking the Canadian manufacturers the go-by.

Coming at this time, when our government is laying so much stress on the importance and necessity of patronizing and encouraging home industry if Canada is to reap her full share of benefit and development during this reconstruction period, just passing of such a resolution by such an influential body may, at first thought, appear very much out of place. However, if one takes the trouble to review conditions as they at present exist and have existed for the past four or five years, he will be forced to the conclusion that some such action on the part of both producer and consumer, appears to be absolutely necessary in order to remedy what is evidently a very unsatisfactory state of affairs.

That it should be necessary to go to such extremes is a disgrace but judging from exposures made at hearings of the various investigating commissions, and the tardiness of the government in righting wrongs after they have been exposed, there appears to be no alternative.

There is a movement now on foot originating with the National Council of Women, to organize the consumers. If this is accomplished and further boycotting indulged in, Canada as a whole is bound to suffer, and just at a time when opportunity is knocking at her doors.

There was a time when our governments could wriggle out of tight corners by artful side stepping and working political dodges overtime, but those times are past. The four and a half years of war have shown us that governments can do many things hitherto thought impossible. If, therefore, continued conditions force things to a show down and the country loses out, it is the government will be held responsible.

A short time ago Pat Burns tried to minimize the seriousness of conditions as a result of crop failures by saying that things were not so bad as they seemed and that everything would be all right before the summer had passed. No doubt Pat was thinking about himself and of the stock of flour, eggs and bacon he had on ice.

Since it has been announced that the government may possibly set a maximum price for wheat. So as to prevent prices from soaring beyond legitimate bounds, there is considerable criticism from some quarters. These complaints are not from the consumers.

STARTLING STATISTICS

In looking over the Canada Year Book which is just to hand, we were amazed to find the large percentage of foreigners in the western provinces, and were convinced that the government is starting none too soon in revising its immigration laws.

According to the last general census taken in 1911 the number of males in Alberta between the ages of 18 and 45 was 122,916. Of these 3,446 were Canadian born, 31,361 were British born and 88,515 were foreign born. This figures out that 43.54 per cent of the male population of Alberta between the ages above mentioned are of foreign birth.

Since it is now well known that the great upheavals which have taken place in labor circles in Canada lately have been the outcome of German and Russian propaganda, and have been financed from these sources, one can quite readily see from these statistics that the agents or these countries have had an abundance of material - with which to work.

It is not hard to figure out why Germany and Russia expect to gain by stirring up turmoil and trouble in Canada and the United States, nor can it be doubted for a moment that they have their agents in both these countries. In dealing with this phase of the question an article in Maclean's Magazine this month says: "After all we must recognize that it will pay Germany to spend millions to weaken Canada and the United States."

as occupied with our own troubles which are piling back her old markets. If she succeeds also win the war and the foreigners in the Allied countries will have helped her in the winning.

Manitoba Official

No Buy Alberta Cattle

S. C. Sims, the Manitoba provincial purchaser of cattle under the department of agriculture, has been named as the agent to go to Alberta to buy the million dollars' worth of cattle which the government is purchasing from the farmers of Alberta.

This announcement was made by Hon. Valentine Winkler, minister of agriculture. Mr. Sims will leave for Alberta as soon as negotiations respecting final conditions and plans under which purchasing and selling may be made, have been completed.

As far as the purchasing of cattle is concerned, these arrangements will be completed in the course of a few days. The government is awaiting communications from the Alberta government which, Mr. Winkler said, should complete the conditions under which the "province" would take over the cattle. Some 50,000 head of cattle will be purchased.

NOTED TRAINER HERE

WITH ANIMAL SHOW

Merritt Below, who heads the training staff with Buller's Dog and Pony Shows, although young in years is a veteran of the white tent. Many residents of this section of the country will remember the old Norris & Rowe's Dog and Pony Show. This attraction regularly used to travel through British Columbia and Western Canada, visiting all the principal points. Below is an adopted son of the late Harry Rowe, one time owner of Norris & Rowe's show, and he is connected to the country's foremost animal educator.

He will be here next Friday with his wonderfully trained animals and visitors to the grounds are allowed plenty of time to inspect the animals before the performance starts.

Nine hundred German men, women and children, who were taken to the internment camp at Vetch and Kesteven, Ont., will sail on Wednesday next for Holland.

Military occupation of Mexico by the United States was advocated by Representative Hudds, Democrat, Texas, in an address Saturday to the house. He urged withdrawal of recognition of the Carranza government, and said American troops should be kept in Mexico until a stable government had been established.

To Help Tomatoes

To Ripen Soon

The tomato plants should be staked upright and should be pruned to reduce the foliage. These operations, probably have a greater effect in inducing early maturity, than anything else, with the possible exception of variety.

The object is to allow the sun to shine more directly on the stems and fruit and to check the production of excessive foliage and late blossoming. The plant should be trained to grow to one upright stem instead of numerous sprawling branches. It should be fastened upright by driving a stake in beside it and tying to the stake.

Or wires may be stretched along a row, though this method is not as satisfactory as staking. The growth should be prevented from becoming dense and bushy by pinching off the buds that appear in the axils of the branches. And in addition, part of the foliage may be pruned off. After a sufficient amount of fruit has been formed, later blossoms should be picked off so as to force the growth and maturity of the earlier fruit.
